YOUR ENTRY INTO THE PROFESSIONAL LEAGUE OF TIG WELDING.

Die HandyTIG 180 DC.

Thousands of TIG welders cannot be wrong!

Compact, proven and functional. A HandyTIG 180 DC has everything on board that TIG needs. It ignites and welds with absolute professionalism and is so easy to operate. This makes TIG for stainless steel on assembly sites and in the workshop a problem-free job. This is where performance, reliability and compactness are required. Whether for repair and maintenance work, reworking weld seams or the final assembly of components.

The HandyTIG is the unbeatably favourable entry into the professional quality class for TIG welding.

This flyer is aimed exclusively at professionals. Lorch products are only available from authorised specialist dealers. The promotional prices are valid from 01.01.2025 to 31.12.2025. While stocks last - subject to prior sale. All prices are without VAT.

YOUR WORLD CHAMPION IN ALL DISCIPLINES.

The MicorTIG-Series.

State-of-the-art high-tech electronics – uncompromisingly compressed.

The best mobile TIG DC system we have ever built. Unrivalled also in terms of the battery. Now everyone has to measure themselves against it!

With the MicorTIG, we have combined all our TIG experience and the boldest wishes of TIG welders with the latest technology in the most compact design. The declared goal: 200 A of the most demanding TIG DC welding with all functions. Absolutely mobile and easy to operate. For the professional TIG welder, but also for the occasional welder. Our development department took up the challenge and worked hard to surpass itself. The result is the ultimate TIG system for assembly work, but also for the workshop. For steel and stainless steel. Whether railings, handrails, containers, flanges or covers. Whether production or repair and, most importantly, with or without a socket on site.

The MicorTIG clearly improves the lives and work results of the world's TIG welders.

WELDS ALUMINIUM AND STEEL. EVEN IN THE MOBILE VERSION.

The HandyTIG AC/DC-Series.

The compact all-rounder for aluminium and stainless steel.

Anyone who can do any job anywhere professionally can rightly call themselves an all-rounder. The HandyTIG AC/DC feels just as at home in a workshop as it does on site. Only the welder feels only the welder feels more comfortable. Because its professional welding system from Lorch makes it extremely easy for him to weld perfect seams.

Alternating current (AC) is required for aluminium TIG welding. As aluminium is a very good conductor of heat, every millimetre of material thickness requires more current. For this reason, there is the HandyTIG 180 AC/DC for aluminium up to 5 mm thick and the HandyTIG 200 AC/DC for aluminium up to 8 mm thick. Both for the 230 V mains.

So nothing stands in the way of your success. In apparatus engineering or sheet metal processing with a fixed workstation or on the move for repairs, maintenance and final assembly: The HandyTIG AC/DC delivers top performance - always and everywhere. A large industrial TIG welding system can do no better. And you certainly don't want to lug it to the next construction site.

True applications. True results. True Lorch.

THE WORKSHOP
CHAMPION.

The R-Series.

The latest generation for your workshop.

Just the right compact welding systems for harsh use in practice: A robust housing, coupled with smart inverter technology, brings MIG-MAG perfection to industry standards into your workshop. The R-series is the ideal partner for any welding tasks in workshop and light fabrication.

As a special feature, the system remains easy to operate, offering many setting options for clean weld seams without requiring any rework.

Perfectly adjusted welding programmes are available for all common applications in workshop and light fabrication. No matter the material-wire-gas combination chosen, the R-series can weld on the highest level. It supplies the best arc for any material, even if aluminium or stainless steel are welded instead of steel, or if flux-cored wire or brazing tasks are at hand.
